College provided faculty (CPFM) model is defined as any college-bearing courses taught to high school students by college provided faculty regardless of location or delivery method. This enrollment is due to a partnership between the high school and college or university.

If an institution is applying for both the CEP and the CPFM endorsements: P1, P2, S1, S2, S4, E1, and E2 – Documentation may be the same for both endorsements if a single process, procedure or policy is followed.

S3 and S4 – Describe differences between the CEP and CPFM models and reason for the differences.

F3 - A single annual professional development event can include instructors for concurrent enrollment programs and college provided faculty model.

Note: There are many models and programs that serve high school students that cannot meet all the NACEP standards. Before pursuing the CPFM endorsement, your institutions should be able to answer yes to the following questions:

1. Is your program a partnership with area high schools?
2. Does your program have evidence of orientation or training for college faculty teaching high school students?
3. Does your institution include data from your program in its course, departmental and college wide assessment process?
