

It has energized me to be a part of the University community.

Dale Anderson, teacher, Shakopee High School

 I truly appreciate the support and intellectual stimulation CIS provides for me as an educator.

Kelli Donais, teacher Eastview High School

College in the Schools inspires me to learn and grow right along with my students.

Patricia Nygren, teacher, Farmington High School

It pushes me to be a better teacher.

Heather Magelee, teacher, St. Clair Public Schools

I get access to the best in pedagogy and that helps me raise the bar for my students.

Julie Bulau, teacher, Eden Valley-Watkins High School

 No other staff development is quite like this because we are all teaching the same class and can really collaborate.

Carmen Barbone, teacher, Shakopee High School

 I appreciate the chance for more in-depth knowledge and understanding of recent research in the field.

Kara Osmundson, teacher, Shakopee High School

 Our workshops are challenging and they inspire me to develop my academic teaching skills.

Matthew Brown, teacher, Richfield High School

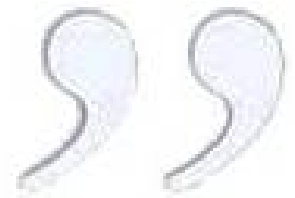

I am a more capable and informed teacher.

Laura Nelson, teacher, Academy for Sciences and Agriculture

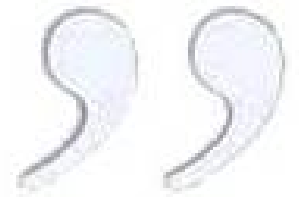

The workshops challenge me to remain in critical, analytical, and active conversations with colleagues.

Susannah Wright, teacher, Patrick Henry High School

It gives me a wider range of approaches to teaching and increased knowledge of content, all of which has made me a better teacher in every class.

Becky Haven, teacher, Forest Lake Area High School